

FANS

Place the yellow fan over the wind. What makes it spin?

The blades of the fan are at an angle to the direction the air is moving. The air pushes the blades out of its way as it rushes past. All the blades are pushed in the same direction, making the fan spin around. The same thing happens with windmills.